SALEM HIGH PLAYS ALUMNI TONIGHT

Coach Clancy Has Fastest Quintet of Ball Tossers That Has Represented Local School.

ALUMNI GATHERING STARS TO GIVE UNDER GRADS GOOD RUB

M'Intire, Brooks, Utter and Perkins Are Included in the Lineup of Old Grads.

Salem basketball enthusiasts will have the first opportunity of seeing the local high school team in action tonight when they line up against the alumni in the local high school gymnasium. The report comes from the high school that Coach Clancy has an unusually fast bunch of basketball tossers this year, and the report is well verified, considering the fact that two weeks ago they defeated Washington high school in Portland on their own floor by the score of 28 to 21. With the exception of Gill, who has been playing at guard in place of Captain Law, who has been out since the football season with a broken finger, the team is the same as that of last year, when it won the championship of Willamette valley.

The team which will represent the alumni is without question the best that has ever lined up against the regulars. Every man is a star in his position, and with one or two exceptions every man has played on one of the northwest college teams. Perkins was all state center in '34 when he played with Willamette university. His teammate, McIntire, who is coaching McMinnville high, will also play with the alumni. Brooks, a former O. A. C. player, will be in the lineup, and both Elber and Floyd Utter will be seen in action again. Two other men who have been practicing with the alumni are Schramm and Mills, and both will be certain to play a part of the game.

Against such an aggregation of stars the high school boys hardly expect to win, but they promise to make the out-timers travel some if they get away with the bacon.

The Salem high team will line up with Proctor and Reinhardt as forwards; Keene, center, and Radcliffe and Lowe as guards. This team has a heavy schedule this year, which includes some of the best teams of their class in the valley. The schedule in full follows: January 5, Alumni at Salem; January 8, Vancouver at Salem; January 13, Corvallis at Salem; January 22, Eugene at Eugene; January 26, Astoria at Salem; February 4, Newberg at Newberg; February 5, Astoria at Astoria; February 13, Corvallis at Corvallis; February 15, O. A. C. freshmen at Corvallis; February 16, McMinnville at Salem; February 19, Washington high school at Portland; February 23, Albany at Albany; February 26, Eugene at Salem; March 2, Lincoln high school at Salem; March 5, Newberg at Salem; and March 12, McMinnville at McMinnville.

WEAK SPOT PLUGGED SAYS MANAGER MCGRAW

Securing of Hans Lobert to Give Giants Pennant Next Season.

New York, Jan. 5.—"We have played up the one weak spot on our team by securing Hans Lobert to play third base and I now feel certain that the Giants will lead the National league next season."

This was the declaration here today of John J. McGraw, manager of the New York National league club, in announcing that he had secured Third Baseman Hans Lobert of the Phillies in a trade which sent Al Demaree pitcher, Milton Stock, infielder, and Jack Adams, pitcher, to the Quakers town club. "We were weak at third last season," said McGraw, "and the acquisition of Lobert will give us an infield that will class with any in either of the big leagues."

Some men are known by the things they might have accomplished but didn't.

"HARLEM TOMMY" MURPHY DOWN AND OUT

Terrific Beating at Hands of Willie Beecher Last Night Loses Supporters.

New York, Jan. 5.—The passing of "Harlem Tommy" Murphy as a pugilistic attraction was seen here today as a result of the beating he sustained last night at the hands of Willie Beecher in a 16-round bout before the Langore Athletic club. Murphy was unable to do anything with Beecher, the latter mauling the veteran ring man about the ring and irritating him by swinging left jolts to Tommy's sore left ear.

PROMOTERS BIDDING FOR JOHNSON-WILLARD FIGHT

Billy Gibson Would Put On Fight at Havana-Coffroth at Tia Juana, Mexico.

New York, Jan. 5.—Members of the syndicate backing the proposed Jack Johnson-Jess Willard fight gathered here today to select a date and a site for the battle. Billy Gibson, the New York promoter, has just returned from a trip to Havana, Cuba, and urged that the bout be staged there on February 28.

It was also reported that James W. Coffroth, San Francisco promoter, is bidding for the contest. If he is the successful bidder, Coffroth will stage the match at Tia Juana, Mexico, 20 miles from San Diego.

BILLY MURPHY TO MEET EDDIE MCGOORTY FRIDAY

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 5.—Billy Murphy, the California middleweight, arrived here today from Chicago to wind up training for his scheduled 10-round bout here next Friday evening with Eddie McGoorty, of Oshkosh, Wis. The Californian was accompanied by his manager, Jack Kearns, and Red Watson, a lightweight.

"Murphy," said Manager Kearns, "is in splendid condition already for McGoorty. Billy recently stopped Sam Ed Petroskey in two rounds in San Francisco and I expect him to win from McGoorty, too. If he is successful, Murray will be matched with the winner of the Jimmy Clabby-Mike Gibbons bout."

UNIVERSITY BASKET BALL PRACTICE ON

Team Gets Down to Business After Two Weeks of Rest—Outlook Is Good.

The Willamette university basketball team will take up hard practice this evening in preparation for a hard schedule which they will have to handle during the coming month.

Among the big teams they will face during the next few weeks are University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural college and University of Washington. Floret, Pratt and Shuler of last year's team are back on the job and are tossing the big ball in new form. They are strongly augmented by Gates and Bagley, two of last season's stars, and are working out in nice shape and, along with the first team remnants, should make a fast, snappy team.

MATHEWSON ONLY OLD TIMER WITH GIANTS

Passing of George Wiltse Leaves Matty Last Member of 1905 Team That Won World's Championship.

WILTSE'S SPLENDID SERVICE MEANT MUCH FOR GIANTS

Manager McGraw Grants Wiltse Unconditional Release as Special Favor.

(By Hal Sheridan.)

New York, Jan. 5.—The passing of George Wiltse, veteran southpaw, from the roster of the New York National league club, called attention to the fact that Christy Mathewson, one of the greatest twirlers the game has ever known is now the only member of the Giants except, of course, Manager McGraw, who was on the club's payroll when the Giants won the world's championship in 1905. All the other players have dropped back to the minors or have drifted into other lines of employment.

Wiltse was one of the most popular players that ever wore a Giant uniform. He always gave the club his best services and that it was appreciated was shown by the fact that McGraw gave him his unconditional release. This was done so Wiltse might negotiate without restraint for the transfer of the Jersey City International league franchise to Syracuse, where he has interested capital.

Wiltse has been slipping for the last three years. However, he proved of inestimable service to the Giants in 1913 when Fred Merkle, the regular Giant first baseman, was injured on the eve of the world's series with the Philadelphia Athletics. Wiltse slipped a glove on his right hand and went down to first base. He covered it, too, in sensational style. It was Wiltse's great work on first that made it possible for the Giants to lead a single game—the 10-inning affair that Mathewson won. Wiltse had exceptional control for a southpaw and also a remarkable change of pace. He was also known as the best fielding pitcher in the big leagues.

Hi West Will Heave For Venice This Season

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5.—After weeks of dickerings the Venice club of the Pacific Coast baseball league became today the owner of Pitcher Hi West formerly of the Portland Beavers. Manager Hogan of Venice announced that he had purchased West outright, but refused to make public the price.

Two years ago West experienced a good season at Portland and was regarded as one of the best twirlers in the league. Last year, partially because of illness, he was unable to maintain his pace. Hogan expects him to be one of his mainstays next season.

SEATTLE MAN KILLS WIFE THEN SUICIDES

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 5.—After hurling his wife from a window of their home, Morris Miller, a baker, chased her two blocks, and, cornering her in the yard of a neighbor, shot her to death. Bundling over the body, he made sure life was extinct, and then sent a bullet crashing through his own head.

Neighbors stood about powerless to act, Miller threatening to kill anyone who attempted interference. Mrs. Miller sank to fall to the ground as her husband reached her side. He grasped her by the arm, put the pistol against her back and fired two shots. Death was instantaneous. When the coroner arrived to take charge of the two bodies, a large Irish terrier, owned by the couple, stood guard. He snarled savagely at the official and force was resorted to before the bodies could be removed. Miller had made frequent threats to kill his wife.
